Quote Sheet

"A one-man show enhanced with video footage and pre-recorded music, Don Who? has such a likable, low-key stage presence he pulls off the task of keeping everyone attentive and entertained. You almost feel like you are in his living room, where he just happens to have a bar with a cutout of Dean Martin. Don Who? goes from a funny story or joke into a musical impression to a bit with the audience. With his pleasant timbre and crooner style, his Dean Martin is excellent ("Volare," "Let It Snow") and the vocals are also solid for his Elvis. The Christmas music ranges from the ridiculous ("Grandma Got Run Over By A Reindeer") to the sublime ("The Christmas Song") with other favorites like "White Christmas," Elvis' "Blue Christmas" and "Rockin' Around the Christmas Tree." If you're in the mood for holiday sounds with a solid professional at the helm, Christmas in the White Mountains Featuring Don Who? fits the bill."

- Lori Hoffman, Atlantic City Weekly

"The New Hampshire native (hence the show's title) is another in a series of acts that have played extended engagements at Resorts' venerable Superstar Theater. He is, however, at the head of this class. Who? is a retro-style variety entertainer who adds comedy and instrumental bits to his primarily musical program. He is a competent and facile singer whose delivery and phrasing owe much to several pop icons including Dean Martin."

- Chuck Darrow, The Philadelphia Inquirer

"The Don Who? Show is an energetic, fast-paced show that keeps you moving in your seat. His vocal power and style are electrifying, his rapport with the audience is warm and sincere, and his wit and humor made me laugh 'till it hurt. I'd say it's a must for everyone to see the Don Who? Show!"

- Steve Davis, Variety Magazine

"I brought a bus group down to Resorts to see Don's show and the passengers loved it! They agreed it was a terrific way to get into the holiday spirit with the Christmas season approaching. I've known Don for a number of years from his days in the White Mountains and he never fails to put a smile on my face."
